

Null hypothesis

The distances between points are similar

Alternative hypothesis

The distances between
points are variable